

Regional Directors' and President's Awards

Sponsored by the General Education Committee (GEC)

The purpose of these awards will be to annually showcase a club, one for each of the ten regions, and also choose one of these clubs for the National Presidents award.

These awards are intended to spotlight and reward Clubs which are conforming to all rules of good behavior and conduct with respect to its membership, its canines and the general public.

In addition these awards are designed to encourage every club to a higher standard of excellence in promoting their canines and club activities to both the membership and more importantly, to the general public thereby helping to dilute any anti-dog sentiment or breed specific resentment.

Nomination Process

A club may nominate themselves for the award or Members of the Regional Selection Committee ("RSC" – see below) can also nominate to the pool, a Club or Clubs, which in their opinion are worthy of consideration. All such nominations should be sent to the RSC and copied to the Chair of the General Education Committee.

Selection Process

Regional Directors' Award

A Regional Selection Committee ("RSC") consisting of the Regional Director, the Regional Breed Warden and Regional Training Director will be tasked with ensuring that all such clubs so nominated are evaluated using the selection criteria laid out below. In their due diligence process they may need consult the Judges Committee and the Board of Inquiry as well.

A simple majority vote is taken in case there is a tie and the Club which in the opinion of the RSC has the highest score by conforming/meeting with most of the selection criteria will be submitted to the General Education Committee (“GEC”) for final evaluation and confirmation. The decision of the GEC determined by a simple majority vote of all GEC members is final and binding.

In keeping with the spirit of these awards; the GEC does not expect nor will it entertain any appeals from Clubs which consider that they have not had been fairly judged by the Regional Selection Committee.

President’s Award

A Selection Committee consisting of the President, Vice President, Secretary and two active members of the GEC will choose, by simple majority approval, one of the Regional Clubs as the winner of the Presidents Award. This nomination will also need simple majority approval of all members of the GEC. The Club so selected maybe the one having the highest score but given the regional bias or weighting; the Selection Committee will take other aspects into consideration.

Other Comments

- 1. Presidents Award – The main prize for this award will be called the GEC Challenge Trophy until a corporate sponsor is found to underwrite the annual cost of these awards. The 2008 Awards are being budgeted at around $2000/$2500 and will be underwritten by the GEC until such sponsor is found. The GEC's name will be replaced by the sponsor's name (e.g. Royal Canin Challenge Trophy). The Trophy is a "Challenge" Trophy and will be returned by the winning Club after one year. The winner's details will be suitably inscribed in the base of the Trophy on an ongoing basis.*
- 2. It is envisaged that the awards will be offered annually based on compliance with the selection criteria in the preceding year. For instance the 2008 awards will be based on applying the criteria for activities in 2007.*
- 3. The 2008 awards will be presented at the Annual Meeting scheduled for November 2008 and so on. There will be deadlines laid for submission of each phase of the award process.*
- 4. It is also probable that the GEC may change the selection criteria for each Award year based on feedback as to how practical they are in application.*
- 5. Regions could, if they so desire, elect to not participate in these awards. This decision will be made by the Regional Selection Committee and submitted to the GEC.*
- 6. Any interpretation of the Rules and criteria will be made by the GEC.*
- 7. Winning Clubs can publish their awards in any media meant to promote the interests of the Club and the USA. Likewise the GEC will also publish such details in the Magazine, Website and Blog and in other media to showcase such activity and such Clubs.*
